en

Publication | 12.09.2007

Agrofuels

OECD survey says that agrofuels will only have limited impact on climate change.

The OECD report estimates that the US alone spends USD 7 billion a year to help producing ethanol, with each tonne of CO2 avoided costing more than USD 500. The survey asks governments to scrap subsidies for agrofuels because the current rush leads to increasing food prices and is a threat to natural habitats.

For the full report:
OECD report (pdf)

Recommended

Publication

Call for tenders: Greens/EFA Consultation widget

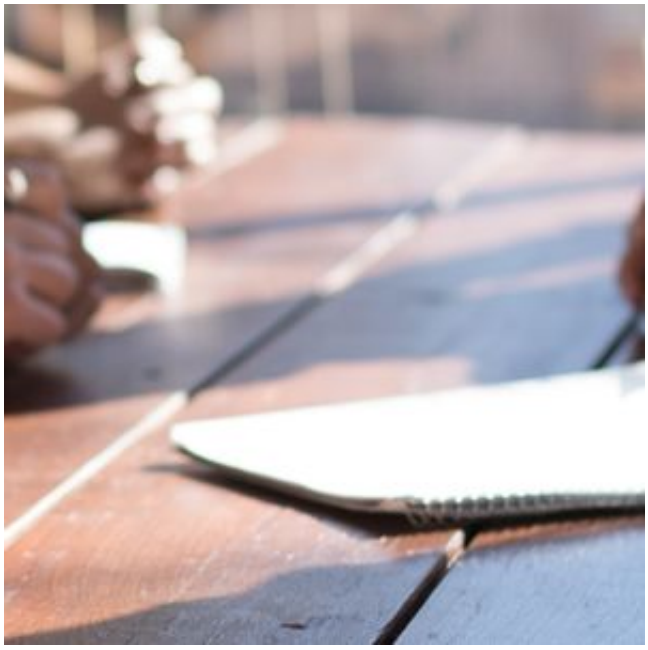
18.10.2026

Publication

Call for tenders: The Greens/EFA CRM Software

08.10.2026

Publication



Human Resources Management System

02.10.2025

Publication

Heads of national delegations in the GREENS/EFA Group

11.03.2025

Please share

- E-Mail