en

Publication | 07.07.2010

Environmental risk assessment of genetically modified plants

Testbiotech opinion on EFSA’s draft guidance

Risk assessment on GM crops is a controversy subject in the European Union. EFSA is now about to publish its guidelines for a new procedure for GMO risk assessment, the so-called «step-by-step procedure». Greens/EFA MEPs Bélier and Bové have commissioned a study on this new procedure by an independent institute.

Recommended

Press release

Hopfphotography

From lab to fork without anyone’s knowledge

17.06.2026

Press release

EasyBuy4u

[‘Veggie burger’ law fuels culture war at expense of fa…]

16.06.2026

News

©zsofia-vera

[PLENARY FLASH Greens/EFA Priorities 15 to 18 June]

15.06.2026

Press release

lebenslotse from pixabay

[Fertiliser crisis: Commission fails to break fossil de…]

19.05.2026

Responsible MEPs

José Bové

Member

Attached documents

347268.environmental risk assessment of genetic@en

Please share

- E-Mail