Call for Applications: Green Digital Fellowship Programme 2026-2027

The future needs better stories. Will you be the one to tell them?

Do you want to create engaging videos, tell stories that inspire hope and action, and help shape a greener future? Join us for an exclusive behind-the-scenes experience of Green politics in Europe, meet MEPs, campaigners and digital communications experts, and learn how powerful storytelling can spark change far beyond your own feed. The Green Digital Fellowship Programme is a unique opportunity for 15 students or young professionals from across Europe to develop their digital communication skills, connect with like-minded creators and become part of a growing network of Green digital storytellers.

What is the Fellowship?

From September 2026 to May 2027, fellows will take part in a programme combining online learning, practical assignments and in-person networking. You'll learn from experienced campaigners, digital strategists, journalists, content creators and communications experts while working on real-world campaigns and building your own voice online.

The programme includes:

- Five interactive online workshops on communication, campaigning and politics
- Two in-person training sessions in Brussels
- Hands-on exercises and feedback from experts
- Networking with young activists and communicators from across Europe
- Opportunities to contribute to European campaigns
- The possibility to attend the European Youth Event (EYE) in Strasbourg in June 2027

Who should apply?

We're looking for people who are:

- Students or young professionals
- Based in the EU
- You care about climate, nature, democracy, equality or social justice
- Curious about digital communication and content creation

What you'll gain

By the end of the Fellowship, you'll:

- Create stronger, more engaging digital content
- Learn practical skills in storytelling, video production and audience engagement
- Understand how digital campaigns are planned and delivered
- Grow your confidence as a communicator
- Join our network of Green digital activists across Europe
- Build lasting connections with fellow creators and communications professionals
- A certificate of participation

Costs

Travel, accommodation and meals for the in-person sessions will be covered by the organisers. Participation in the Fellowship is free of charge.

How to apply

Complete the application form below and tell us why you'd like to join the Green Digital Fellowship. Applications are open until September 1st 2026.

We welcome applications from people of all backgrounds and especially encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in politics and media.

Help shape the stories of hope that Europe needs to hear. Apply now and become part of the next generation of Green digital storytellers.
