Greens/EFA priorities

Monday:

Joint parliamentary meeting on Stockholm Programme

Green MEPs and Green representatives from national parliaments will be among the participants at this discussion of justice and home affairs issues, including immigration and asylum.

Tuesday:

Energy efficiency trialogues: labelling and buildings

A further attempt will be made at finding agreement on energy efficiency labelling for household appliances. Greens were highly critical of the last proposal from the Swedish EU Presidency, and of the handful of Member States ☐ notably Italy ☐ that were behind it. Virtually no progress has been made on the critical points in the latest proposal ahead of the next trialogue meeting:

Little progress was made in the last trialogue on energy efficiency of buildings, a critical issue given that buildings represent 40% of energy consumption in Europe. Further information on the issue is available here: http://www.greens-efa.eu/cms/default/dok/287/287650.energy_efficiency@en.htm

Wednesday:

EU-Russia summit

Greens have called for human rights and democracy to top the agenda:
